DEAR ABOLITIONISTS

It's always a special time when we get to take a moment to reflect on the past year, and the advances we have made together in the fight against human trafficking. This report is a celebration of freedom. It's a declaration of the victories that were made possible in 2015 thanks to our dedicated staff, volunteers, and incredible supporters like you.

Since the very beginning, our heart as an organization has been for the one. Our hope is that as you read this report, and see all of the images and statistics, you'll be reminded of our ultimate goal for every man, woman, and child on the planet: freedom. Whether we're training professionals in the United States, reaching vulnerable children in Thailand, or prosecuting traffickers in Greece, it all points to the rescue and restoration of human trafficking survivors.

Every year, thanks to your faithful generosity and support, we are able to take ground and defy the odds:

We saw a 133% increase in court cases won compared to 2014.

23% increase in assistance provided to survivors of human trafficking through our SAFE homes, transition programs and external assistance initiatives.

We reached 509,726 people through prevention and awareness events.

We are so honored to work with you in the fight against human trafficking. On behalf of the A21 team and all of our survivors... thank you. Together, we truly can abolish modern-day slavery.

Nick and Christine Caine

REFUGEE CRISIS

The ongoing conflict in Syria and Iraq has radically changed the lives of millions of refugees who have been displaced and left longing for safety, security, and a hope for a brighter future for their families.

Within seven days of getting involved, we identified the greatest needs and delivered more than 400 tons of gravel to the site, dug a 2 mile waterline, and created a unique water station made out of a shipping container. Meeting these practical needs opened doors for us to warn these refugees about the dangers of human trafficking.

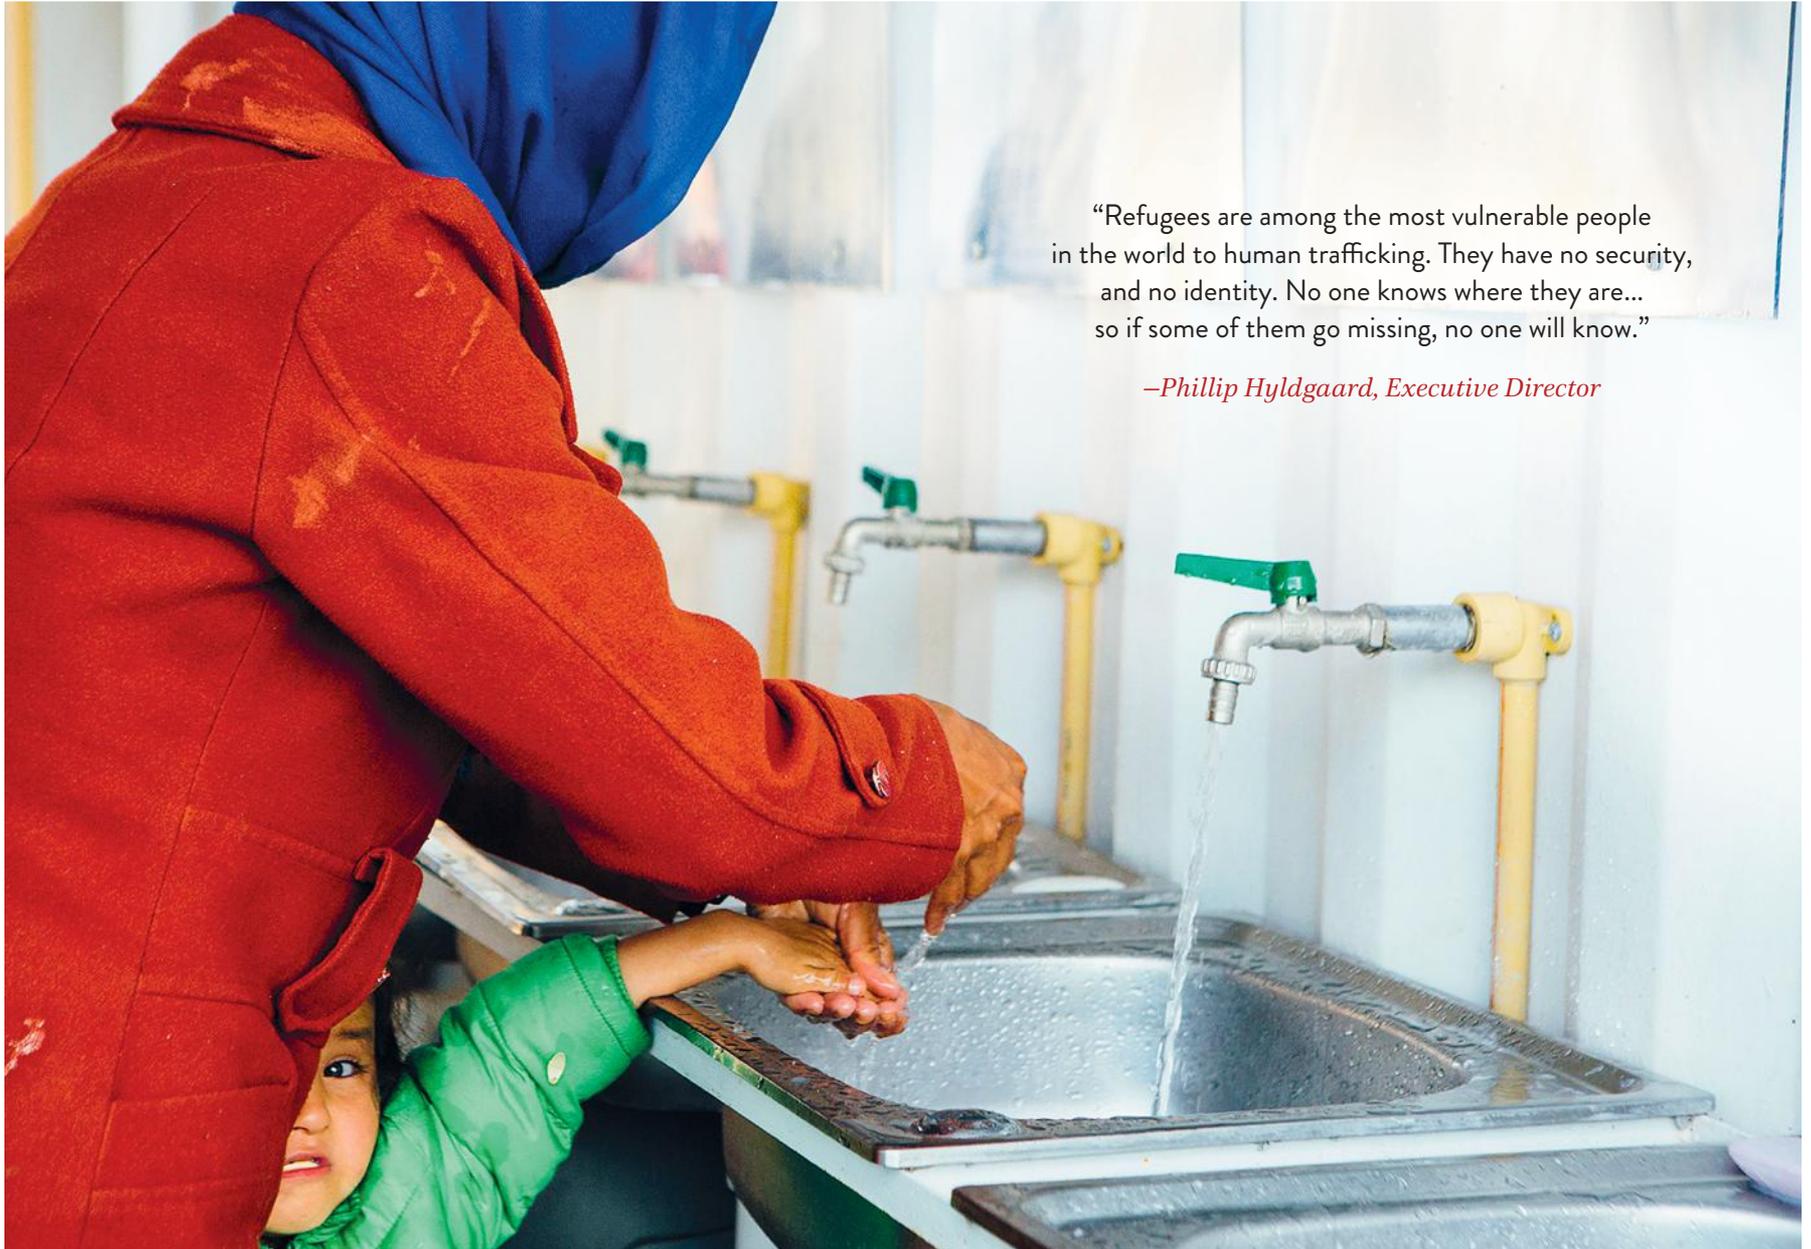

We equipped refugees with a direct line for help in the form of the 1109 and 112 hotlines. Soon after, victims of human trafficking began to be identified, and calls to our hotline led to tips and rescues.

We actively trained first responders, other organizations, and staff in refugee camps on how to identify and handle human trafficking cases. By teaching and equipping others, victims could be identified and moved out of slavery and into an aftercare program.

We distributed over 5,000 flyers, and put up posters in three different languages at key refugee access points to provide vital human trafficking information to refugees.

“Refugees are among the most vulnerable people in the world to human trafficking. They have no security, and no identity. No one knows where they are... so if some of them go missing, no one will know.”

–Phillip Hyldgaard, Executive Director

FREEDOM CONTAINERS

Freedom Containers help to educate refugees about human trafficking so they can protect their families while they stay hydrated and enjoy a hot shower in the middle of winter.

By the end of 2015, we installed three containers in strategic locations throughout Greece.

People given clean drinking water:

302,000

People utilizing warm showers:

43,200

Child resource packs distributed:

2,739

Every refugee is given access to information on human trafficking in three different languages, and equipped with hotline numbers for victim identification and protection. Inside and out, the containers are designed to empower refugees to keep themselves and their families safe from modern-day slavery.

“Thank you for talking to us like humans. I will never forget your smile and kind words.”

—Syrian Refugee

NEW OFFICE

We opened our 11th office in the Netherlands, which is a source, transit, and destination country for human trafficking.

NETHERLANDS

An information leaflet for Gatwick Airport has been distributed to over 5,000 staff members from a variety of sectors and industries, including: law enforcement, travel and tourism, airports and airlines, hospitality, education, and the medical field.

We've held Gatwick Awareness Days in the airport where over 10,000 passengers pass through each day. We were also invited to train ComAir staff in Cape Town, South Africa on identifying trafficking in airports.

NATIONAL HOTLINES

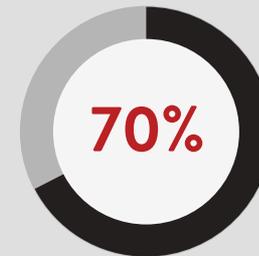

This year, we launched our brand new National Human Trafficking Hotline in Bulgaria during our #WalkForFreedom!

The 0800 20 100 Bulgarian hotline is free and available nationwide.

Calls from Bulgaria and the European Union to the hotline are taken 24/7 and are monitored by the National Commission of Combating Trafficking in Human Beings.

Our 1109 hotline in Greece continued to see a steady stream of calls, where 70% of all A21's rescues came as a result of it.

In the USA, we have continued to spread the word about education through social media and education conferences, and have worked with Baylor University to conduct an academic research study with five schools in Waco, Texas.

MEDIA IMPACT

AWARENESS AT THE INDY 500

In May, we were given the opportunity to show a Public Service Announcement (PSA) at the Indy 500. Our 30-second awareness piece was shown 72 times across the weekend with 1.4 million impressions.

NEW PSA ON NATIONAL GREEK TV

Our PSA about human trafficking in Greece was played on national Greek television in October, and we saw a dramatic increase in calls to our hotline. In fact, many calls were actually from clients who had been visiting brothels.

“I feel so ashamed, as she was so young.”
—Brothel Client

Overall we saw:

235%

increase in tips regarding sex trafficking victims during the new PSA

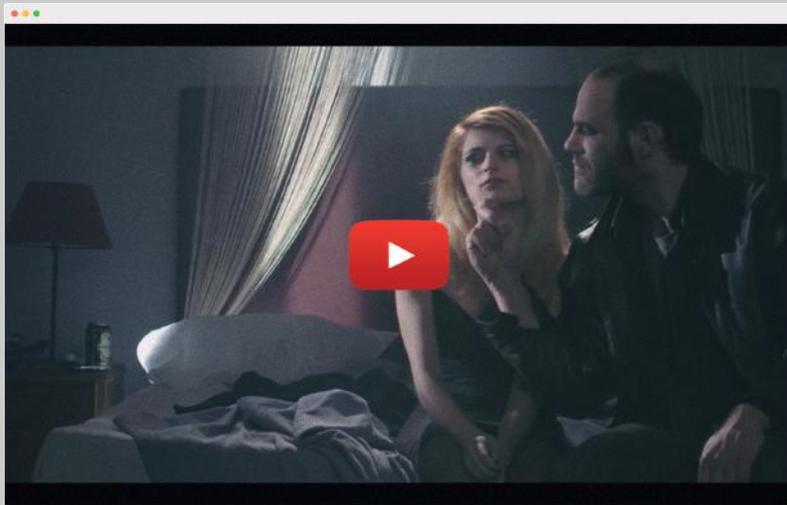

230%

increase in police reports during the new PSA

30%

of the actionable tips during the new PSA came from clients

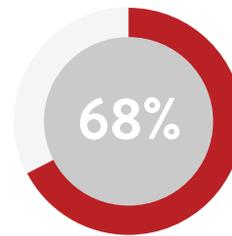

MEDIA BREAKTHROUGH IN

#WalkForFreedom and the new hotline launch were covered on every national TV station. It was prime time news on eight television stations in total, reaching an audience of more than four million people; educating them on what trafficking is and how to report it.

National radio, online, and print media also generated 89 media pieces and reached more than

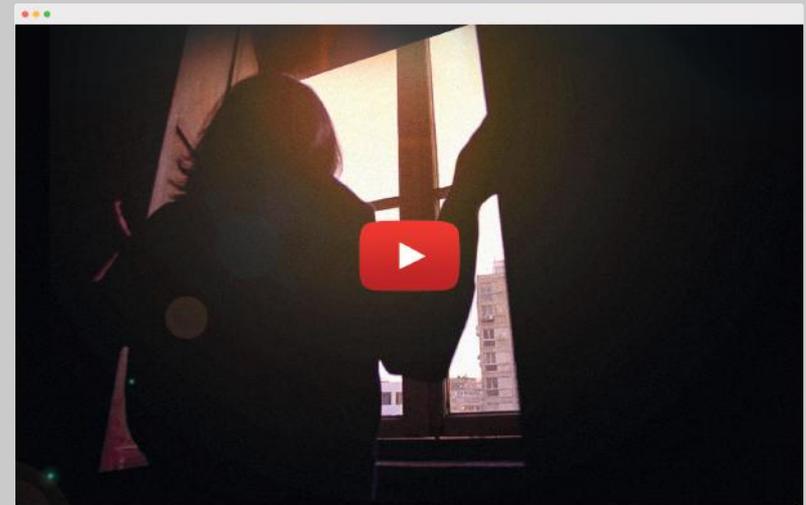

5 MILLION BULGARIAN CITIZENS

with awareness about human trafficking and our new national hotline. In total we reached 68% of the country's population.

AFTERCARE WEB EVENT

Our 40 minute behind-the-scenes Aftercare Video went live November 12th, and generated significant interest. The video follows the story of Anna, one of our brave survivors, and highlights our efforts to rescue and restore the lives of human trafficking victims. The video was viewed 7,500 times in the first 24 hours.

*“I’m blown away by the video.
The four stages are crucial for people to understand, and how this isn’t a choice...it’s survival. This video turns assumptions on their head.”*

PROTECTION

RESCUE

We are able to offer support to local law enforcement, FBI, and other government agencies in the areas of training, investigations, and data collection through our human trafficking hotlines.

RESTORATION

We come alongside survivors to see them restored physically, emotionally, and mentally. We provide education, vocational training, and repatriation assistance to set them up for a new and independent future.

Our efforts in Thailand were incredibly successful as we completed our first full year of operations. In collaboration with a partner organization and the Royal Thai Police, we were able to identify and rescue

31 SURVIVORS.

A21 runs the
ONLY SHELTER IN GREECE
exclusively for trafficked victims.

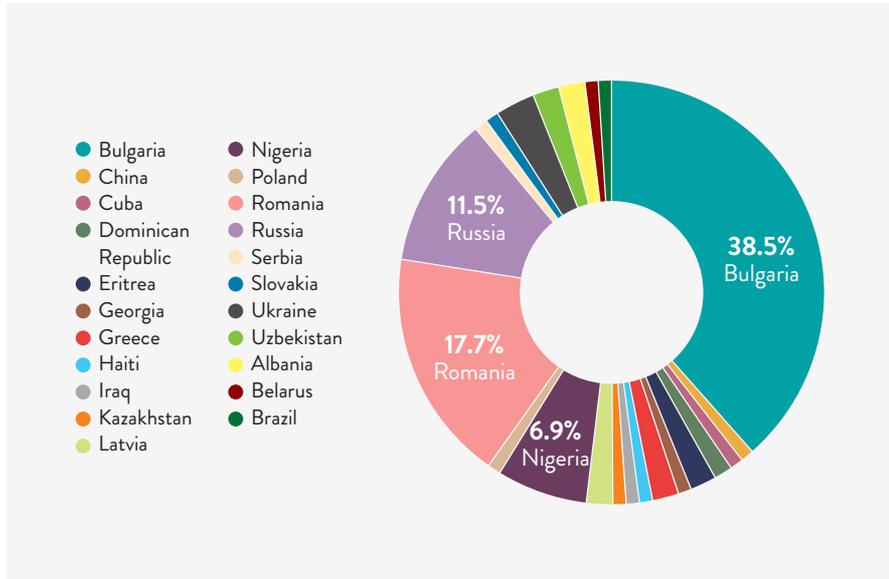

We assisted

SAFE PROGRAM

We saw a 23% increase in providing assistance to survivors of human trafficking through our SAFE homes, transition programs, and external assistance initiatives.

We have partnered with organizations to increase our ability to rescue and restore lives.

LIBERTY SCARVES

Many survivors are trafficked before adulthood and never have the opportunity to gain work experience or receive a formal education. Liberty is a Bulgarian based company owned by A21. With Liberty, we hire survivors on working contracts, and they are the highest paid knitters in Bulgaria and earn a well above average wage.

Our survivors knit more than 600 SCARVES
 to sell through our online Christmas store.

SURVIVOR ATTENDS AN AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

One of our Eastern European survivors from an impoverished nation moved to America in August to become the first survivor in our care to attend a university in the United States of America. Our team keeps in regular contact with her now that she is in college, and her beaming smile consistently lights up our computer screens on Skype.

SUCCESSFUL BIRTH AND ADOPTION

A beautiful young woman was rescued and came to our shelter in Greece. She had been forced to service clients even while she was pregnant. Despite several complications, we were able to walk with her through a successful and healthy labor and delivery, as well as facilitate her choice of an adoption for her child into a loving family.

“For the first time,
I am treated with care and respect.”

PARTNERS

We collaborate and share information with law enforcement, government agencies, and local service providers to ensure that the needs of human trafficking survivors are met.

Historic Memorandum of Understanding signed in Thailand:
Any at-risk, non Thai [minor] who is detained will have the option to go home under A21's SAFE program. We can also collaborate to present cases to the Royal Thai Police should we successfully gain a witness statement.

Our prosecution efforts in Greece received an enormous boost as we were granted permission from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to provide legal aid for every human trafficking case throughout Greece.

We continued our partnership with the FBI in the USA through our work with the Department of Justice, as well as survivor assistance during key court cases.

The Gatwick Airport United Kingdom Police invited A21 to take part in a number of raids to ensure appropriate safeguarding arrangements were put in place for all women involved.
